Happy New Year Patchogue UMC Family

On behalf of the Pastoral family, I want to extend to each and every one of you my wishes for “A Happy New Year!” It is certainly true that 2012 was a busy year for us at Patchogue UMC. Perhaps one of the most significant happenings of the year included the many people who joined us in worship, ministry and membership. It was an exciting year for the ministry of our church and I want to thank each and every one of you for your participation in the work that Christ has called us to be involved with through Patchogue UMC.

It’s hard to think of the beginning of a new year without thinking of the song “Auld Lang Syne.” If you have ever watched a movie that spans the change of one year to another, you will hear the characters gather to sing “Auld Lang Syne.” If you happen to be at a New Year’s party, as the clock strikes midnight, you may find yourself in the midst of singing this rather old song. And if you turn on your television on New Year’s Eve to watch the ball drop on Times Square at midnight, you will undoubtedly hear someone belting out their rendition of this holiday favorite as well as catch the crowds lending their voices to the chorus. “Auld Lang Syne” begins with the verse “Should old acquaintance be forgot, and never brought to mind?” There are many interpretations of what this old favorite actually means, but let’s consider for just a moment that perhaps it means we do keep in mind the friends and events of the past year. Even as we move forward, we can remember where we have been and who was there with us. I like this thought because it allows us to have our cake and eat it too! Not only do we get to continue to celebrate the past but we anticipate what we will celebrate in the future.

The New Year is upon us. We will be turning pages on calendars and learning to write “2013” on our checks and correspondence. But that in no way means we have to forget the wonderful events we experienced, nor the special people we met, and certainly let’s not forget the ministries we were involved with during 2012. Let’s use the past successes to propel us forward to new successes, new challenges, new ministries, and new ways to respond to the

The Stewardship Moment

“The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make his face shine upon you and be gracious to you; the Lord turn his face toward you and give you peace”. Numbers 6:24-26.

As we progress joyfully through the holiday season, your Stewardship committee continues to work hard to keep all the members of UMC Patchogue up to date with information and reporting on all facets of the Christian life. We will continue to present this information under the headings provided in our ongoing Stewardship campaign for 2013; hopefully, this will enable all of you to find any particular items of interest a bit more easily. And, please: if there is anything we can do to enhance or improve this column, please let any member of the committee know. Thanks!

The Pastoral Care Ministry

Pastor Sanchez is very satisfied with the worship service (Order of Worship) as it currently stands. He is also delighted with the small groups that have become a vital and vibrant part of our congregation's participation in the Christian life: the Bible studies, the healing and prayer services, Wesley Dinners, the many youth projects, and so many others. Pastor feels that small group worship and service enhance the spirituality of the entire church, and there seems to be a revitalization of these efforts... He is very excited that our new members have become so active in our day to day church life. And he is especially happy about the church youth who step up to assist in worship on the first Sunday of each month. Finally, his confirmation class continues to be on course, with seven youth currently enrolled.

Worship & Music

The Choral Society of the Moriches, with Martha Campanile directing, performed Handel's Messiah on Friday, Dec. 14 in the sanctuary here at UMC Patchogue. It was well attended, and the performance itself was beautiful (of course!) The United Methodist Women served complementary refreshments. Two days later, during worship on Sunday Dec. 16, our young people presented the annual Christmas Pageant, a delight as always.

In January, 2013, watch for the Three Kings Day celebration during service on the 6th, including a pot luck lunch afterwards. During worship on the following Sunday, Jan. 13, we will be adding a new, regular feature: contemporary music of praise, led by Ken Miller. He invites all of you to participate—with your voices, spirits, and hearts! And on the 27th, there will be a training workshop for Worship Assistants, Ushers, and Greeters.

Christian Education

As mentioned above, Confirmation class now has seven confirmands. They will be doing a mini-retreat (one day) on Saturday, Jan. 19, focused on spiritual practices. The Wednesday bible study has finished their program named The Journey, and will resume studies in February, curriculum to be determined. Sunday AM Bible study continues with the Banned Questions, occasionally supplanted by timely topics of interest. The high school class is well along in its study of the Old Testament; they also played a spirited game of “Bible Feud” on Sunday, Dec. 12, which was a quiz on the first several books of the Bible loosely based on the format of “Family Feud”. The need for a Youth Group Leader continues.

Service to the Community

Wesley Dinner was held Thursday Dec. 27, and “Boxing Day” gifts of hats, gloves and mittens were distributed. ESL continues classes for local Hispanic residents, with participation at each class usually from 10 to 14 people. The ICC Insurance Agency has adopted a Food Pantry family for Christmas, may God bless them! And speaking of the Food Pantry...

If there is anyone who still doubts that God works in mysterious and beautiful ways, he or she need look no further than any storage area, nook or cranny in church, where they can find seven pallets of non-perishable food and household necessities donated by the Jansons, owners of the local Shop Rite store, to augment our Food Pantry. (And Gail Hoag: THANK YOU!) Our heartfelt thanks and gratitude go out for this wonderful gift of direct support to those in need.

Outreach & Mission

UMW has created five gift baskets for those in nursing homes and the home-bound. Wesley Dinners & the Food Pantry work together to provide gloves and hats, bags of toiletries, extra food bags, and toys. Several groups are preparing food and snack bags for those who need food, but show up outside Food Pantry hours, and there was a further collection towards that ministry on Dec. 30. UMW continues to offer Fair Trade Coffee, Cocoa, Chocolate and catalog items. They are making their annual contributions this year to our New York Annual Conference, Wesley Dinners, our congregation, and towards the refurbish-

Acting in Christ's true Spirit: the Salvation Army continues to supply, and Lenny Pearson continues to deliver, relief supplies of food and other necessities to the permanent residents of Fire Island, those 60 or so who live on Fire Island year-round, and had nowhere to go when Sandy crashed into their homes

Inreach & Fellowship

Thanks to Dave Hollowell for building platforms for the two projectors in the sanctuary. With the second screen in place, we continue to expand the tools available to enhance our worship service.

Finally, thanks to all who welcome our visitors and guests. What could be more Christ-like than to welcome a stranger who has come to our "house"? You never know whether you will be the one who gives the firm handshake, the warm embrace, or the simple testimony about your church that will make a visitor say, "wow, I really feel welcome here, I want to know more!", vs. "oh, well, this isn't the place, on with the ChurchSearch..." We ALL can—and do—make a difference; what a wonderful thing it is when we make that difference with Jesus Christ as our guide. "Behold, I come to the door and knock..."

May God bless us all!

Stewardship Campaign for 2013

Although the thrust of the "Extravagant Generosity, The Heart of Giving" program is over, the practice of Extravagant Generosity must continue. Thanks to the many of you who have responded with an Estimate of Giving. However, we have not yet met our goal. There is still time for you to become a part of this exciting time in our church as we grow and gradually change into the church we envision. If you would like an Estimate of Giving "card", you may get one in the church office. If you would like to give electronically, please call or email the office for a direct deposit form. If you need a reminder of what it's all about, revisit the Heart Card boards around the church. A couple of weeks ago we had the opportunity to see Extravagant Generosity in action as the Cloud Room was filled with items for distribution to the less fortunate members of our community. What a GIFT! And now we have the opportunity to experience how good it feels to give. That was truly a gift that gives. That is what "Extravagant Generosity, The Heart of Giving" is all about, feeling good about giving! Doesn't that feel great?

For those who still desire to submit an Estimate of Giving, Financial Secretary Tom Bracken notes that we are still short of our budgeted amount. If, after prayer, you wish to make a commitment at this point, or perhaps desire to increase the Estimate you have already turned in, there is still time. Thanks for your honest consideration.

gift of a Savior that we have celebrated at Christmas. If indeed we believe that "unto us a child is born, a Savior given" then we have the most wonderful reason to carry into 2013 and every day of this New Year the glorious news we know to be true.

If you are prone to make resolutions as you enter a new year, may I suggest that you add these to your list:

- Make certain that you are involved in conversation with God daily (prayer);
- Make it a point to be present for worship regularly (praise); and
- Make efforts to share your faith as you are able and comfortable (potential).

There are certainly more that could be added if we wanted an all-inclusive list, but if we can be involved in these three regularly, we will kickoff the new year with efforts that are pleasing to God. As always, the ministries and joys that come from knowing Christ and making Him known are unlimited. It is exciting to consider what we have accomplished and what awaits us. I look forward to 2013 and the New Year. Blessings.

In Christ,

—Pastor Sanchez

Leaning Tower of Babel

Our Cup Runneth Over

Our Food Pantry and Wesley Dinner program received a huge donation in December from Shop Rite of Patchogue. The Janson family, owners of the store, sent a tractor trailer to the church with seven pallets of non-perishable food and other household supplies. The retail value of the donation is more than $38,000. A big crew of our own came down to help unload, including Pastor Sanchez, above. The group photo shows Harry Janson II on the left with wife Amy and their children, Sarah and Harry III in the center. Left to right, Michael Alexio, Jim Miller, Janet Alt, Christine Saas, David Hollowell, William Loris, Barbara Becker, Gail Hoag, Jerry Alt, Jean Miller, Ray Henson, and Richie Anderson.

Newtown Massacre Impacts Local Church

It was supposed to be Christmas Pageant Sunday at Newtown United Methodist Church. The joy candle was to be lit on the Advent wreath. Christmas caroling was to take place after the second service. Instead, it was a time to weep, a time to mourn. Two 7-year-olds from the congregation were among the 20 children and six adults who were killed two days earlier, Dec. 14, in the shooting rampage at Sandy Hook Elementary School. A 20-year-old had visited unspeakable horror on a school, a community and a group of families that had sent their happy youngsters off to another day at a school with a committed staff of teachers and administrators. First responders were called from their “day jobs” to rush into a rescue situation that left them with lasting traumatic images. Law enforcement — local, state and federal — were frantically summoned to secure the school and begin the painstaking process of putting together the pieces to determine what happened and to try to provide answers to the inevitable question of “why.”

After the events of Friday morning, almost nothing seemed right with the world. The Rev. Mel Kawakami, the senior pastor at Newtown, had to prepare a sermon on Saturday night, a sermon he did not anticipate writing. On Sunday morning, Jay and Jeff stood outside the church in the gray, drizzly weather, welcoming guests and keeping a wary eye on the media barrage that continued to sweep down the narrow street in front of the church. They were keeping the parking lot open for worshippers rather than the TV microwave trucks. They hadn’t imagined that they, and their friend Don, would be out in the cold all morning long. Karen, a member of the congregation, said she appreciated “the caring commitment of the congregation,” something she had experienced during her husband’s recent illness, but she hadn’t imagined that people would be clinging to each other for reasons beyond the friendliness and spirit of the season.

Bishop Martin McLee, the New York Annual Conference’s new resident bishop, had made other commitments for Sunday, as had his cousin, who also changed his plans and drove the bishop the two hours north to Newtown, the usually quiet, Norman Rockwell-like country village with a creek that gurgles through the main part of town.

A Prayer For The New Year

What shall I ask for the coming year
What shall my watchword be
What should thou do for me, dear
Lord
What can I do for thee?

Lord, I would ask for a holy year
Spent in thy perfect will
Help me to walk in thy very steps
Help me to please thee still.

Lord, I would ask for a trustful year
Give me thy faith divine
Taking my full inheritance
Making thy fulness mine!

Lord, I would ask for a year of love
O let me love thee best
Give me the love that faileth not
Beneath the hardest test.

Lord, I would ask for a year of

prayer
Teach me to walk with thee
Breathe in my heart the Spirit's
prayer
Pray thou thy prayer in me!

Lord, I would ask for the dying
world
Stretch forth thy mighty hand
Thy truth proclaim, thy power display
This year in every land.

Lord, I would ask for a year of joy
Thy peace, thy joy divine
Springing undimmed through all the days
Be thy days of shade or shine.

Lord, I ask for a year of hope
Looking for thee to come
And hastening on that year of years
That brings us home to you.
